There are many reasons why someone may choose a natural burial:

- Care for the environment
- Arranging a truly personal goodbye to a loved one
- Having a beautiful place to visit and remember
- Leaving a natural legacy for future generations
- Because the cost can be so much less than traditional cemeteries

At The Natural Burial Company we are passionate about protecting the environment and caring for the bereaved. Therefore, we are dedicated to providing tranquil, peaceful places for remembrance and helping ensure truly personal celebrations of life and funeral services. These can be conducted, free of time time constraints, restrictions and the general conveyor-belt feel of so many funeral service locations.
